supporting careers

in manufacturing, engineering and technology for UK plc

https://trs-system.co.uk/rolls-royce
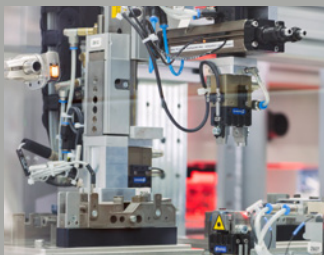

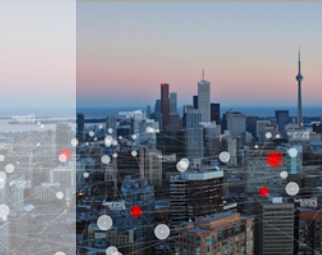

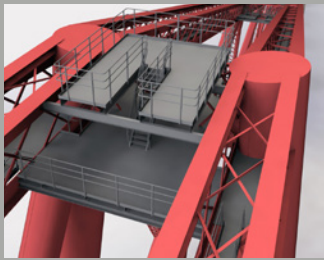

The TRS programme has been designed to support the recruitment, redeployment and skills development of individuals working in the UK Manufacturing, Engineering and Technology sectors, particularly in situations involving corporate restructuring and reorganisation.

TRS is working with Rolls-Royce plc to provide a tailored portal through which affected employees can register their personal profiles and CVs on the TRS system.

The portal complements existing redeployment arrangements and allows interested employers to upload their vacancies and make direct contact with affected employees through the system.

It's part of a dedicated programme responsible for facilitating the attraction, development and retention of people and skills across key UK industries.
